

Inclusion Chats

The Developmental Health and Inclusion Department is offering Lunch-N-Learn: Inclusion Chats. This is an informal session that takes place virtually while you have your lunch with your co-workers, teachers, and directors in other centers while discussing and sharing your ideas, strategies, and techniques based on inclusion topics.

In the beginning, we will talk about the topic of choice based on the feedback given from registration and then we will open up for discussion. Please come prepared with any questions and/or techniques you may want to share during this time. Active participation will be greatly appreciated.

Each session will last only 1 hour and you will receive 1 hour for in-service hours. NO CEUs will be provided.

Click on the registrations links to register. Topics may vary at each session, so you are welcome to register to more than one session.

Tuesday April 9, 2024 at 12:30pm to 1:30pm

Note: If three (3) or fewer participants sign up for a certain date, the session will be canceled, you will be notified and asked to select another date. The maximum number of participants for each training is 30.

Once we receive your registration information, each participant will get an individual email to confirm approval and a zoom link for the appropriate date and time of session they choose. Any handouts will be emailed to you prior to the session.

Multiple drawings will be held at each chat!
